

ORCiD & WRaP:

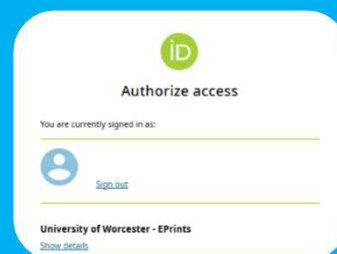

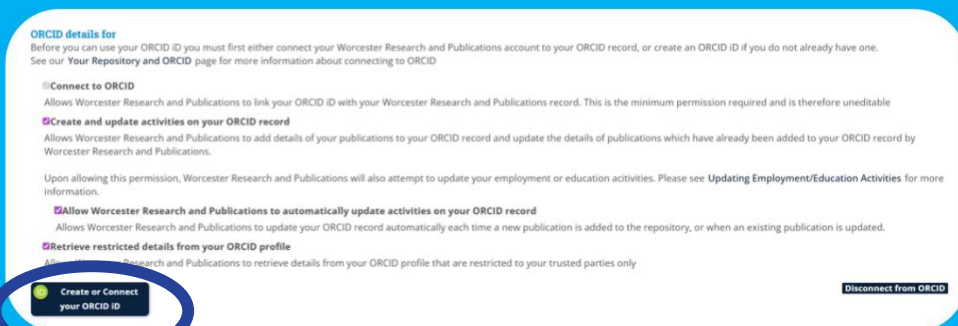

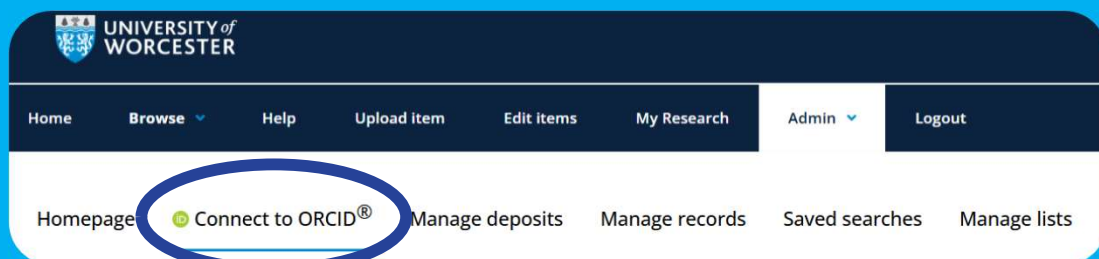

Linking your accounts

If you don't already have an ORCiD, see our short video explaining the benefits and follow the guidance on creating an account.

You can link your WRaP user account to your ORCiD, to save time by allowing any new repository entries to auto-populate your ORCiD Works list:

1. Once you have an ORCiD account, select the 'Manage ORCID Permissions' heading from the 'Admin' menu after logging into WRaP.
2. Toggle on the permissions you wish to give WRaP; make sure to toggle on 'Create and update activities on your ORCID record' if you would like the profile to be auto-populated.
3. The 'Create or Connect your ORCID ID' button at the bottom of the page will then take you to ORCiD's site to sign in and authorise the access.

Once linked, new WRaP entries will auto-populate your ORCiD. To export your existing WRaP entries onto ORCiD, please email: library-research@worc.ac.uk

If you already have Works listed on ORCiD, import these using the 'Import from orcid.org' button under 'Edit items' on the WRaP header. This creates entries in your 'Edit items' area, which you can then deposit for review like a normal entry.
